

K-12 Religious Private Education in Cumberland County

Cumberland County is blessed to have over 18 private religious schools (two with enrollments of over 500 students), many of which offer education at Pre-Kindergarten through 12th grade levels. Denominations include Baptist, Catholic, Church of God, and Pentecostal Holiness, but many are inter-denominational. Curriculums vary, but many high schools offer Honors, AP, and college credit through the Huskins program affiliated with Fayetteville Technical Community College.

Area private Christian schools are geographically spread out all around Cumberland County, and most have campus security gates and are located in safe areas. Many of the schools in are interdenominational, and most schools enroll students throughout the year. A majority of the schools consistently rank well above the national average on standardized testing, while a high number of graduates continue their education into college or serve in the military. Additionally, a high percentage of graduates qualify for scholarships and other financial assistance.

Private schools in the area offer many of the same programs and extracurricular activities as local public schools. Many schools have on-campus day care, hot lunch, and technology programs, while also boasting Fine Arts programs for art and music. Sports offered in schools with enrollments of 100 or more include:

Soccer	Basketball
Volleyball	Swimming
Cross Country	Golf
Tennis	Softball
Football	Baseball
Cheerleading

Cumberland County private schools offer affordable tuition rates and financial aid is available.

Fayetteville Academy

The Fayetteville Academy is the only private, non-sectarian, PK – 12 school in Cumberland County. With just over 400 students and an average class size of 12, the Academy is an intimate, student-center school that focuses on meeting the needs of its students.

Each year, 100% of enrolled students are accepted to four-year colleges and universities, and well over 70% of the students who apply to the most selective schools in the country are accepted. Recent alumni have earned a median college GPA of 3.6 during their freshman year, while faculty averages over 22 years of teaching experience and 50% have a Masters Degree.

Attendance at the Academy is a privilege, not a right, and major disciplinary problems are not tolerated. The Academy has an Honor Code in all three divisions to help instill personal integrity in each student.

The Academy is located in the center of the main residential communities in the city of Fayetteville, strategically located between downtown Fayetteville and Ft. Bragg. Although the majority of the students are from Fayetteville, the Academy regularly draws students from a radius of approximately 30 miles. The Academy experience is enriched by the diversity - socio-economic, racial, and religious - of its student body.

The Academy's tuition compares favorably to similar schools in the Southeast. Over $300,000 in financial assistance was granted during the 2006-2007 academic year.
