

Art Galleries and Museums

The Arts Center

Formerly the site of a United States Post Office and a public library, this building now houses the Arts Council. The Arts Council Galleries feature local and regional artists. The group hosts numerous free art events for the community and visitors alike such as monthly Fourth Friday & Market Days events, the annual International Folk Festival in September, A Dickens Holiday during the holiday season, and other visual art exhibitions.

Fayetteville Museum of Art

The Museum was founded in 1971. Originally housed in downtown Fayetteville's historic Market House, the Museum moved in 1978 to its present facility, which was the first building in the State of North Carolina designed and built as an Art Museum. It offers a variety of world-class art exhibits as well as concerts, workshops, and special events. The modern facility includes two galleries, classrooms, studio space, an art reference library, a museum store, and 5.8 acre grounds and pond that provide a wonderful place to gather and relax.
